New Haviland Dinner Sets.

There's nothing we can say that would add to the reputation of Haviland China—that's fixed beyond question.

These Dinner Sets have just been received, and they're all of the newest shapes—the difference in prices consisting mostly in the decorations and patterns, the quality being about the same in all.

102-piece sets in "Lachon" and "Coligny" shapes are decorated in pretty flower sprays—the different colorings blending beautifully with the White China, $32.00 and $35.00.

114-piece set in the "Marquise" shape has an especially fine border pattern with tracings of coin gold. It is a rich looking set for $53.50.

102-piece set in the "Fleur-de-lis" shape is decorated with a beautiful border pattern of roses—the pink flower and the green leaf forming a charming contrast $60.00.

The four sets we advertise are simply representative of what we have. There are other Haviland Sets (114 pieces) at $43.50. The "Elite," a French China, that is exceedingly popular—$38. Royal Austrian Ware (102 pieces) at $48 and $58—in addition to other China Dinner Sets, both foreign and domestic, as low as $10.00.

Social and Personal

The excursion given by the ladies of the Virginia table of the approaching Confederate Bazaar to Williamsburg last Saturday, was quite a success in spite of the very inclement day. The ladies who accompanied the excursion declared that a forenoon without rain gave them the opportunity they desired to visit the many interesting localities in the colonial capital. After an excellent lunch they were inclined for rest, and a social chat, and were indifferent to outside conditions. The number who went down was altogether sufficient to pay the expenses of the excursion and net a good sum for the table.

Page-Dyson.
Miss Ayda Dyson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dyson, of Portsmouth, Va., and Mr. Ernest R. Page, a member of the firm of Page and Moore, of that city, were married in the home of the Rev. W. M. Beauchamp, of Broad Street Methodist Church, by Mr. Beauchamp, on Saturday evening last.

Mr. and Mrs. Page's marriage was a complete surprise to their family and friends. They left Portsmouth Saturday afternoon, accompanied by Miss Annetta Jones, an intimate friend of the bride. Arriving in Richmond they were met by Mr. Rowe, another friend, who assisted Mr. Page to secure a license. The party then went to the minister and the nuptial ceremony was performed.

The bride and groom, who telegraphed the news of their wedding to their respective families Saturday night, are now at Murphy's Hotel, where they will remain for a few days before returning home.

Mississippi.
The Committee of the Mississippi Table met at No. 215 East Franklin Street yesterday at 11 A. M. They were greatly encouraged by the receipt of six boxes from the Jackson, Greenwood, Macon, Rosedale and Holly Springs Chapters of the Mississippi United Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. Blennett Lee, of Chicago, also sent several boxes through the Columbus Chapter of Daughters.

The articles contained in the boxes were dainty in workmanship and beautiful in material. Several of them were the work of devoted Confederate women past seventy years old, whose hands and hearts are still active in behalf of the cause they love so well.

The chairman of the Mississippi table and her assistants feel the greatest interest in endeavoring to render the result of their efforts a credit to the State which was for many years the home of President Davis. They appreciate the help sent them, and are glad to know that Richmond and Mississippi women will have a community interest in the approaching Confederate Bazaar.

The fashioning and the erection of the Mississippi table have been generously given the committee by the Richmond Pattern Works. Only the actual cost of material will be paid for, and Mrs. Harwood and her ladies trust that when the 15th of April arrives, they will have only cause for pride and gratification over the creditable and tasteful appearance which their table will present.

Gayeties at Old Point.
The spring season at Old Point is said to be very gay, with a fair sprinkling of Richmond patronage. Mr. and Mrs. John K. Branch and Miss Lella Myers being among the guests. Miss Bell Perkins has just returned from a delightful stay of about a week at the Chamberlain. Among the pretty young Virginia girls at Old Point is Miss Agnes Drewry, of Centralia, who has joined Mr. and Mrs. Ford, of Baltimore, for a stay of several weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert D. Wilson, of Princeton, were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Cary Johnson, of Union Theological Seminary, at an informal reception given in their home after Dr.

It is artistically decorated in pyrography and has the Texas seal on one side and "Wood from the White House of the Confederacy" on the other, and makes a desirable souvenir of Richmond, as well as of the Texas table. Samples of the souvenirs have already been received, and are greatly admired. They will be sold for twenty-five cents apiece.

FROST MARCH 27TH
What is Shown by the Diary of Rev. J. R. Garlick.

Farmers in Henrico and throughout the State generally are anxiously watching weather conditions for signs of a frost, which many fear will come. If it comes, crops which are just beginning to come out will undergo a vast injury.

In this connection there is a little incident that is worth noting. The Rev. J. R. Garlick, D. D., the well known minister in this city, is a devoted farmer. Each year he raises his little crop. In looking over his diary the other day he noticed that on March 17th, 1894, he had jotted down the fact that the peach trees were in full bloom. The fact was noted because it was rather early for the blossoms. This year, on the 17th of March, Dr. Garlick wrote down the same thing. When he read over a few more pages, however, Dr. Garlick saw to his dismay that on March 27th, 1894, he had followed up his first note with another, which set forth the appearance of a heavy frost, as a result of which the peach trees were frozen and the crop ruined. The thermometer stood at 18 degrees. The question now being pondered by Dr. Garlick is whether or not the coincidence will be carried out to the end this year. The Weather Bureau predicts coming cold weather.

Mr. Wortham Better.
Mr. Payette Wortham, who has been dangerously ill at his home, No. 114 North Eleventh Street, was much improved last night, and it is now hoped by his many friends that he will recover in good time. He has been suffering with appendicitis and peritonitis.

He has invited many prominent Elks to be present, and it is quite likely that there will be a large number on hand. Mr. Kelly extends a hearty invitation to all Richmond Elks to be present at the installation and initiation.

BELL WAS TOLLED.
The fire bell was tolled last night about 6 o'clock for a lost child, and the whole city turned out in the search.

The child was little Wallace Knight, aged four years, who lives at Tenth and Stockton Streets. His mother sent him to the store for some oil. He got the oil, but started back home in the wrong direction, and for three hours his mother was in the anguish that comes to a loving heart under such circumstances.

The little fellow was found about 7 o'clock by a searching party, out near Broad Rock, still trudging along, clinging to the oil can. There was a lot of parental joy when he was brought back home.
